MISSED LESSONS

We want each student to experience the excitement of progress from week to week—the key to that is consistent practice and consistent attendance. If you must miss a lesson, be sure to contact the school at least a day in advance, by 10 p.m. the night before the lesson to ensure your missed lesson is considered excused.

Three excused absences for students taking one lesson a week, and six excused absences for students taking two lessons a week are allowed during the entire course of a school year. Any more lessons missed by a student will not be made up or credited.

The make-up weeks are scheduled at the end of the school year. Make up classes are held during the designated Make Up Session (June 15–July 4, 2020), unless special arrangements are made between a teacher and a student.

If a student cannot attend the make up classes, those lessons will be forfeited.

Lessons missed by the instructor or due to holidays will be rescheduled at another time agreeable to both the student and the instructor and will be made up in addition to the allowed limit on excused absences.

As a courtesy to our students enrolled in CPS, or other schools outside of School District 64, which follow a different school calendar, we will provide additional make up dates based on the student's and the instructor's availability if a student must miss classes the first week, Monday, August 26–Saturday August 31, of the academic school year 2019/2020.
